PROJECT

QuizApp using ReactJS

This React application is a quiz game where users answer multiple-choice questions. It tracks the score and shows a countdown timer for each question. Once the user answers or the timer runs out, the next question appears. After all questions are answered, the user's final score is displayed, and they can restart the quiz. The timer resets for each question and stops when the quiz ends.

Product Management App using ReactJS

This web application allows users to manage products efficiently. Features include user login, signup, adding new products, and updating existing ones. Product data is fetched and managed via external API calls. Navigate through different sections using the navbar for a smooth experience. Enjoy responsive design with Bootstrap integration for a modern look. You can also view your wishlist and handle invalid pages with proper error routing. Built using React and React Router for a seamless single-page application feel.
